

A follow-on version of the UI can include more sophisticated DAG query/navigation capabilities such as the ability to ask for all blocks in which a particular contract was activated. This will require a more intelligent server which will process DAG state in the backend before sending the results to the browser.

